SAN DIEGO NEXT STOP FOR FLIERS

TUCSON, Ariz., Sept. 22 (By the Associated Press).—The United States army round-the-world fliers looked forward to getting back into home territory today. They had before them a flight of approximately 275 miles from here to San Diego, Cal., from which they took flight on their epochal journey.

The grueling, punishing days of flying over the deserts, had been made for covered stretches of sea over with, the flight has developed into a few days of plain sailing over well-known stretches of country to Seattle, Wash., the official terminus marking completion of the around-the-world trail.

In a strange contrast to their reception at other American cities, the fliers found their greatest held back by a line of United States soldiers. There was no breaking of lines by the impatient welcomers, and the airman went to the crowd for the first time.

They were dined and given presents last night, the gifts being blankets contributed by various Arizona towns.

There was no indication of the hour Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith, the flight commander, would lead his fellow pilots, Lieutenants Erik Nelson and Leigh Wade, into the air today, but it was thought it would be somewhere around 9 o'clock mountain standard time.

Hops OK at Tucson

TUCSON, Ariz., Sept. 22.—With Lieut. Lowell Smith in the lead, the three army world fliers hopped off here at 7:28 o'clock this morning for San Diego. The sky was clear and there was only a slight breeze.

United Textile Workers of America. Although the cathedral is not expected to be complete for about five years, it is understood plans have been drawn to place the proposed shrine in the main part of the building.

Mrs. Wilson recently had measurements taken in the chapel for a more appropriate memorial tablet than the plain stone block which simply bears the name of Woodrow Wilson and the dates of birth and death.

SHANGHAI TROOPS WITHSTAND KIANGSU ARTILLERY ATTACK

After Battering at the Chekiang Defensive Lines Since Daybreak the Kiangsu Forces Were Unable to Push Shanghai Troops Back in Fights Near Shanghai

SHANGHAI, Sept. 22.—After battering at the Chekiang defensive lines since daybreak, the Kiangsu artillery was unable to push the Shanghai troops back in fighting which was in progress today between Hwangtu and Kiating, 15 miles west of Shanghai.

The firing started by the Kiangsu forces at 5 a. m. proved ineffectual. It was followed by another charge which started at 8 o'clock. There was a lull then until noon. At 3 o'clock there was a resumption of intense firing by the Kiangsus, but without any marked change in positions.

Shanghai headquarters at Lungwha today confirmed a report of the destruction of the cruiser Hanchow to the Peking government. The Hanchow went over to the enemy with several smaller units, Chekiang headquarters said. The smaller craft are valueless, the announcement said, because they lack munitions and are only able to carry troops.

The deserting craft were known as the Chinese fleet. The boats were reported to have left the mouth of the Yangtze river yesterday for Nanking to join Peking naval forces.

It was pointed out today by persons in authority that by abandoning Hanchow, in Chekiang province, where a revolt among his troops were reported, Lu Yung-shing not only shortens his defense line from about 70 to 100 miles, but he has forced foreign powers into the position of allies. Wherever the Chekiang forces are driven back in the neighborhood of foreign settlements, it was pointed out, the enemy would not dare to continue firing, since shells falling on the settlement would mean instant intervention. Guarding of the foreign settlements was relaxed somewhat today.

Reports from Peking and Mukden show that General Wu Pei-fu and General Chang Tso-lin, leaders of the rival armies now assembled for a final fight for possession of the Chinese central government are directing major operations personally.

General Chang, it was reported, has requested the American and British consuls to warn their countrymen at Chungking, a gulf port on the Manchurian-Chihian line, and Shan-haiwan, an adjoining town, of his intention to bomb the places. Supporting his contemplated action, General Chang asserted that he was engaged in a life and death struggle and could not stop at half measures.

NEW MEN FOR THE POLICE DEPARTMENT

Lowell's police force may soon be augmented by the addition of seven new men. Acting Superintendent of Police Hugh Downey is now awaiting a list of eligibles from the civil service department, and may name the new officers when this arrives. An examination was held recently.

The increase in the number of men in the department is due to recent promotion of four men from supernumeraries to regulars, thus leaving vacancies in the supernumerary ranks. Several extra officers are being pressed into service on Saturday nights.

The desire of the high school building commission for $5000 more for work on the building, made known to the administration many weeks ago has not yet been realized, due mainly to the fact that the mayor did not call a joint meeting of the building commission and the city council for the purpose of choosing a successor to Dr. Lamoureux, resigned.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO INTERVIEW DR. LAMOUREUX

Did Not Visit Him

The desire of the high school building commission for $5000 more for work on the building, made known to the administration many weeks ago has not yet been realized, due mainly to the fact that the mayor did not call a joint meeting of the building commission and the city council for the purpose of choosing a successor to Dr. Lamoureux, resigned.

At the time the high school building commission asked for the $5000 the city treasurer attempted to arrange the necessary loan with the First National Bank of Boston, fiscal agent for the city. In view of the fact that only three members of the board voted in favor and the law requires an additional vote, the bank did not feel such a loan would be legal.

Due to the resignation of Dr. Lamoureux, the extra vote could not be mustered. A special committee of the city council was appointed by that body to ask Dr. Lamoureux to reconsider his resignation. Of that nothing has since been heard. In the meantime the many is not obtainable and no steps have been taken to elect a successor as the law provides should be done within 30 days after a vacancy occurs.

There is slight possibility that a special council committee may report at the meeting scheduled for tomorrow night but the probability is regarded as dubious. In the meantime no call for a joint session has been made and the council has not finally acted upon the resignation of Dr. Lamoureux.

That the special council committee named to take up the matter of reconsideration with Dr. Lamoureux has been far from diligent in attending to its mission was made apparent this afternoon when Dr. Lamoureux asked by a representative of The Sun, said no council committee had ever approached him on the subject.

"Have you given any thought to reconsideration of your resignation as a member of the high school building commission?" the doctor was asked.

"No, I have not. I do not see why I should."

"The reason I asked was because a special committee of the council was named several weeks ago to prevail upon you to reconsider."

"I know nothing of that. I have not been approached on the subject," was the reply.

SAVING HUMAN LIVES

To End Coal Mine Explosions Sprinkle Mine With Rock Dust

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Fatal coal dust explosions, like that at Sublet, near Kemmerer, Wyoming, last Tuesday, in which nearly 50 miners were killed, are needless disasters which can be prevented by simple safety measures, chiefly the sprinkling of the underground workings with powdered shale or rock dust, according to a statement today by the American association for labor legislation.

"The lives of more than 400 miners who have met death in eight major coal dust explosions in the United States this far during the present year would have been spared if the simple, inexpensive and completely effective expedient of sprinkling the mines with rock dust had been in general use," the statement declares. "Tests made during the past ten years by the United States bureau of mines have proved the efficacy of this precaution."

"In England the use of rock dust in bituminous mines is required by law and as a result explosions due to coal dust have been eliminated."

While fatalities due to coal dust explosions in the United States have greatly increased during the past two years, the association states, at the same time an increasing number of substantial coal companies have equipped their mines with the protective rock dust.

"Significantly, at the recent meeting of the coal mine inspectors of America in Cincinnati, the use of rock dust to prevent explosions was urged as a prime measure of safety," the statement concludes. "And in the present year, as a result of the Castle Gate explosion in which 172 miners were killed, the state of Utah has, with the co-operation of all coal operators in the state, put into effect a new set of mine safety regulations—the most complete and scientific that has thus far been adopted in the United States—which requires the use of rock dust in the mines."

"The tragedy at Sublet, Wyoming, which follows closely upon an earlier explosion in the same company's mine at Frontier in which 73 miners met death, is the most recent reminder that all bituminous states can eliminate these needless catastrophes by taking action like that which was so promptly put through in Utah."

AUTUMNAL DANCING AT THE COMMODORE

With the coming of the fall season and the cool days at hand the Commodore ballroom has made preparations to combat the cold autumn evenings by placing the side walls in position, thereby making the hall more comfortable for the patrons. During the past week some of the largest gatherings of the year were present to enjoy the programs.

Miner-Doyle's team will be on deck to play for dancing on three nights commencing this evening, Friday and Saturday. The admission will be 10 cents and the check system will be used on two evenings. Friday the hall has been engaged for a club social.

Again this week "The Tallets" will be here two nights, namely Tuesday and Thursday. This troupe has been the feature attraction at this hall during the present season and every night this orchestra has appeared the Commodore deal has been said about the Commodore has had capacity houses.

Versatility of the team and each night a "barrel of fun" has been provided by different members of the aggregation. While the admission is only 10 cents the amusement derived is worth much more. "Mal" himself will see to it that the boys are kept busy during the evening. Check dancing will be in order on both nights.

Another old timers party will be conducted on Wednesday evening with Joe Hibbard and his band of "ancients" furnishing the music. If you like the old time music and prefer the dances that were popular years ago, then you will find an evening of pleasure at the Commodore on Wednesday night.

LIONS CLUB MEETING

Capt. Louis R. Knight of the Boston airport will be the speaker before the Lowell Lions club at its noonday meeting tomorrow. He is thoroughly familiar with the plans and preparations for the round-the-world fight and will speak on that history-making event. Capt. Knight was to have given his address two weeks ago, but the arrival of the flu at Boston made it necessary for him to postpone his Lowell visit.

MINOR ACCIDENTS OVER WEEK END

There were several minor accidents over the week end. Late Saturday afternoon, George Simonds, six years old, of 72 Adams street, ran into an auto truck operated by Frank J. Redding of 318 Suffolk street. The injured child was removed to his home by the driver and appeared to be not seriously hurt. Two boys riding on a bicycle on Broadway collided with a machine operated by Leon D. Sullivan of 9 Pleasant street shortly after 7 o'clock Saturday night. They were John Conley of 560 Broadway and Thomas Burke of 139 Willie street. Neither was badly hurt. Yesterday's first accident occurred about 11 o'clock when Costas Gauderes of Market street, was struck by a machine driven by Louis A. Conits of 41 Marion street. The accident took place in Lagrange street, near Suffolk, and the boy was removed to the Corporation hospital suffering from bruises and minor lacerations. He later went to his home. At Merrimack and Cabot streets late yesterday afternoon, Jennie Coutros of 358 Moody street was struck by a motorcycle operated by William G. Wyman of 82 Fay street. She was treated for minor bruises at the Corporation hospital.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Beha Daniels, Richard Dix and Mary Astor are featured in the principal roles of "Unguarded Women," an Alan Crosland production, adapted from the Saturday Evening Post serial, "Face," by Lucy Stone Terrill. Among the prominent players in support are Walter McGrath, Frank Losee, Helen Lindroth, Harry Westover, Donald Hall, Joe King and many other names just as well known. "Unguarded Women," one of Paramount's "Famous Forty," opened a four days' engagement at the Merrimack Square theatre yesterday. The story has to do with a young fellow who, through a moment of cowardice on the battlefield, feels that he owes a great debt to the young widow to whom he had married. The girl, without the restraining hand of a husband to guide her, has joined her reputation in the eyes of society and is rapidly plunging herself into perdition in her blind quest for her false idea of happiness. Bebe Daniels plays the girl, Broke Banning, and Richard Dix is the boy, Douglas Albright. Mrs. Astor has the role of the other girl whom Albright really loves, though he sacrifices himself by doing what he believes to be his duty—offering Mrs. Banning the protection of his name. What does Helen do? That's the question "Unguarded Women" is answering for hundreds of fans daily. The second feature of the current bill is "By Divine Right," a stirring drama of modern life, produced by Elliott Dexter.

Harry Downing and company will present "The Banquet of Originalities" at the D. F. Keith theatre this week, beginning today. It is a delightful melange of singing, dancing and patter, and is equipped with special scenery and costume. The Boston City Four come back to us with their latest knockout of comedy and music. The Griffin twins are dancing brothers, in their teens, who stage one of the prettiest of turns. The brothers have only recently taken up the professional life, although they have been novelty dancers for years. James Mullen and Anna Francis ought to create a lot of happiness with their fun. Mullen was formerly associated with Allan Coogan. "Paragon" is a personality girl who plays the violin, and Hollinger & Reynolds are aerial acrobats. "Between Friends" is the big picture feature and underlined in the picture are Lou Tellegen, Anna Q. Nilsson, Norman Kerry and Alice Calhoun.

RIALTO THEATRE

The much heralded melodrama "It Is the Law" will open its three day engagement today at Lowell's Rialto, where it will be given its first local presentation. The story was adapted from the stage play of the same name and is a thrilling drama. Local theatregoers have manifested special interest in this picture due to the fact that Herbert Heyes, a former local leading man, plays the leading juvenile role, that of Justin Victor, who is "framed" and railroaded to prison for a life term for a murder he did not commit. A most unusual and interesting character will be seen in "It Is the Law." It is a dual role and is enacted by Arthur Hohl, a new face to the screen, but one of the favorite stage stars of Broadway. An actor who, while appearing before the camera in making this big Fox production, was making at the same time the greatest hit of his career in the featured role of Witzel in "White Cargo," still running in Daly's theatre, as one of New York's stage hits. Hohl was chosen for "It Is the Law" because of the fact that he had created the difficult double role in the original stage production of the same name. And what a treat it is to see him at work in the screen production. A master of makeup and acting technique, he doubles many times in startling fashion from one role to the other, of the two hero portraits, as the scenes progress. One time he is the smooth, well dressed and dandyish villain, Albert Woodruff talking to himself across the table as "Solfer" drug dealer, sol and tramp. Within another half hour he switches into the shuffling knut and cowed plumed man, "Solfer," who fights with "himself," he feeds "himself" and finally kills "himself" in order to step into the character and clothes of the dope head to obtain devilish revenge for disappointed love. Shirley Mason in "Love Letters," is seen in the role of a young girl engaged to a man to be married and who knows that another man has in his possession many love letters which she

NURSE TOLD SANDY TO TAKE TANLAC

"Don't Stop On 1 Bottle But Try 5," She Recommended

"My wife is a nurse and she thinks Tanlac is without an equal; and, as for myself, I never lose an opportunity to recommend it for the good it has done me." This statement was made recently by John T. Sandy, 711 Summer Ave., Springfield, Mass. "In March, 1923, I suddenly began to suffer from peculiar dizzy spells that would come on like a flash and almost strike me down. For a long time I had been going along without any appetite and could eat no meats had written to him. A fine state of affairs develops when the holder of the letters uses them as a weapon against her. The usual short subjects are included in the program, the comedy and a Fox News.

TOMMIE MARTELLE HERE

The opening performance of "The Enchanting Widow" was given at the Lowell Opera House this afternoon, starring Tommie Martelle, great female impersonator who has appeared in the title role over 2000 times. The show is highly pleasing, Mr. Martelle wearing a number of the latest modish costumes from the shops of Broadway and Paris. New songs, new dances and new specialties enhance and enliven the show. The Stanley James stock players, headed by Gerald Rowan and Miss Leslie Klee, are supporting the show and their work adds much to its value. The advance seat sale has been tremendous and Mr. Martelle, regarded as the only serious rival of Julia Ellinger, seems assured of being greeted with capably audiences at every performance. There will be no matinee on Friday. Seats have been on sale for over a week but a few choice ones for some days are still available and may be reserved by mail or by phoning the box office, 7610. The season subscription lists are

"I told my wife to bring me a bottle of Tanlac. She said, 'Don't stop at one; take five,' and that is what I have done with the result that my appetite is perfect, the dizziness is no more, and my strength is so good that I am working every day. My wife and I are both strong for Tanlac."

DAVIS SEES VICTORY

Returns From West and Expresses Confidence in Democratic Success

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—John W. Davis is back from his drive for the presidency in eight western states radiating confidence of democratic success in November.

In a formal statement after his arrival here last night, he asserted that everywhere he had found a general dissatisfaction with the record of the present administration both in its dealing with domestic and foreign problems; that the farmer was dissatisfied with the tariff policy and that the laboring man feels keenly the rising cost of living.

Mr. Davis declared that "the exposure of corruption in Washington" had made a far deeper impression on the public mind and the moral sense of the country than the leaders of the republican party were willing to admit. Mr. Davis said the American people realized fully that their choice was only between "continuing the present discredited republican regime or installing the democratic administration in its stead."

MONTREAL, Sept. 22—The village of St. Constance, about 12 miles from here, was wiped out by a fire which started early today, according to meagre reports received here. REV. CHARLES D. PIPER

DEFENDS PACIFISM

Rev. Charles D. Piper, preaching last evening in First Street Baptist church before an audience containing many members of Lowell commandery, Knights of Malta, declared that Jesus was a pacifist; that the Bible is a pacifist book, and that no biblical texts in the New Testament support war. In the Old Testament, the pastor said, war is tolerated as an instrument of God's vengeance.

In his vigorous defense of pacifism and all that it means to the world at large, Rev. Mr. Piper referred to many passages in the Holy Word, dwelling at length upon one in particular—the passage in the gospel of St. Luke, which tells of the "strong man" protecting the weak. The pastor said that the pacifist tendencies of the true Christian religion were first announced to the world when the angels sang "Peace on earth, good will toward men."

A certain amount of preparedness for necessary defensive warfare is needed, the pastor continued, but such a mobilization day as the one recently held is nothing short of "shaking our fist in the faces of neighboring nations," he declared. He believed that preparing for war "will prepare war for you."

The attendance of the Knights of Malta at Fifth Street Baptist church, last evening, formed a part of the day's annual memorial services for the commandery's honored dead. In the afternoon, the regulation lodge memorial services were held in I.O.O.F. hall in Middlesex street, with Past Commander Edwin S. Yeomans presiding. Rev. William F. Harrison of North Chelmsford Congregational church, was the speaker at this service. Among the guests present were Grand Commander Joseph Winn of Cambridge and Grand Recorder F. C. Wilson of Boston.

Six members of the local order passed away during the past year: Past Commander Edward Littlefield, William Baker, Prince Smith, Walter Alwood, James W. Buchanan and William Dresser.

A fine musical program has been arranged for the occasion and a general good time is in store for those who attend.

What You Should Know about a baby's care

Illness is usually due to constipation. Quickly give half a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

THE young mother should watch which foods the baby relishes most, which foods and their quantity cause distress, and act accordingly.

The good health of a baby is largely a matter of intelligent attention to diet. Nevertheless, in spite of your efforts you will sometimes notice belching, flatulence, wind and symptoms of colicky pain.

Give half a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and thereafter vary the offending food. Syrup Pepsin is a laxative admirably suited to infants and children, as it is mild and wholly free from opiates and narcotics.

If you delay in giving it you will soon find the baby suffering from constipation, and that may lead to more serious illness. Half a teaspoonful promptly given will avoid trouble.

Many thousands of mothers have never given their babies any other medicine but Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and they have successfully raised large and sturdy families. The formula is not a secret, being a combination of Egyptian senna with pepsin, and agreeable aromatics. The ingredients are stated on the package. Mrs. Dewey Walker, Elgin, N. M., and Mrs. D. Higginbotham, Otter Creek, Fla., are among the many who are firm believers that Syrup Pepsin has kept their families and themselves in good health.

No family with young children can afford to be without it.

out such a household medicine. It is effective, beneficial and safe regardless of your age and has been considered so for over thirty years. In consequence it is today the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, over 10 million bottles being sold annually.

You will find that Syrup Pepsin quickly brings relief in the severest chronic constipation, in biliousness, lack of appetite, sleeplessness, headache, cankers, bad breath, and to stop a cold or fever.

Free Sample Bottle Coupon

There are people who very rightly prefer to try a thing before they buy it. Let them clip this coupon, pin their name and address to it, and send it to the Dr. Caldwell Syrup Co., 518 Washington Street, Monticello, Illinois, and a free sample bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will be sent them postpaid by mail. Do not include postage. It is free.

Every druggist sells it, and the cost on the average is less than a cent a dose. It is guaranteed to be effective in these symptoms or your money will be refunded.

EXCEPTIONAL CHANCE FOR LOWELL STUDENTS

A new and exceptional opportunity is being offered to the young men and women of Lowell by the state division of university extension. The aim is to encourage higher education by offering courses of college grade to those who have completed high school but who have been unable to go to college. The classes will meet at Lowell high school. The opening of Monday, October 6, has been appointed the inaugural night and the program has been arranged as follows:

Monday, economics.
Tuesday, English, (composition and literature).
Wednesday, French I, Spanish I.
Thursday, mathematics (college algebra, trigonometry).
Friday, American or European history.

All of these classes start officially, when 35 or more students enroll, but it is expected that the membership of each class will far outnumber the minimum registration figure. Instructors of these courses will be the highest standing and ability. Persons who have been unable to complete high school will be allowed to take a course on proof that they are qualified to pursue the subject.

Students who wish to study with a view to obtaining credit toward a degree at other institutions are advised to secure from the university selected permission to substitute these courses for equivalent work in residence.

This chance is unparalleled in the history of education in Lowell and ambitious students cannot afford to let it slip. Registration takes place Monday, Oct. 6. A record membership should result.

FINE CAMPAIGN BOOK

Issued By the Democratic Headquarters

Condemnation of President Coolidge, the republican leadership and "corruption of government" is the striking note in the Democratic Campaign Book just issued by the democratic national committee, which is primarily a manual for speakers and editors. A carefully prepared series of articles, tables, data and statistics on other issues is presented, but throughout the book emphasis is given to graft, dishonesty and scandal during the Harding-Coolidge administration.

President Coolidge is criticized for not having taken the initiative in the unearthing of "corruption" for failure to act promptly after the revelations made by the senate committee, and also for not making a greater success as a leader.

"President Coolidge, faced by signal opportunities and national expectations, has lamentably failed as a leader either of the people or of his party," says the Campaign Book. "He has failed to solve domestic problems or to improve foreign relations."

Tenney Dine and the Naval Oil leases, the Doherty "loan" of $100,000 and the Sinclair "loan" of $25,000 to Secretary Fall, and Denby's and Fall's separation from the cabinet are gone into in detail. The republican party is now controlled by the reactionary leadership is charged with responsibility for the whole oil affair. Another chapter gives the details of the Veterans' Bureau investigations, and charges the indictment of Forbes to the leadership of the republican party, as another scandal.

The investigation of the department of justice forms the subject of another chapter, and the Daugherty charges are related, all to the discredit of the republican administration.

The Campaign Book sharply attacks Charles W. Dawes, the republican vice-presidential nominee, as an "inveterate reactionary." It also charges him with being an enemy of labor and affiliated with his brother in one of the big oil companies, now the defendant in a suit by the government, which charges the company with violation of the anti-trust law.

An extensive chapter is devoted to the Fordney-McCumber tariff act which is denominated as a "producers' tariff." The cost of the tariff to the consumer is described as follows:

"Based on statistics of production exports and imports, the Fordney-McCumber Tariff Act gives protection to the profiteering special interests of $6,270,855,200. The amount of protection is so high that the interests thus favored do not dare to take full advantage of it. It is estimated that only two-thirds of the tax levied as protection is collected. This means that the American people under the Fordney-McCumber Tariff Act are taxed $1,000,000,000, or more than the cost of running the government. Of this vast sum, only $500,000,000 goes into the United States treasury, and $3,500,000,000 into the pockets of the protected interests, enabling them to raise their prices in conformity with the protection granted."

The book has over 200 pages and is well indexed.

COMMON SENSE

When a merchant advertises his wares in a newspaper, he does not appeal to the paper, but to its readers. He solicits the patronage of those readers whether he agrees with the policy of the paper or not.

To refrain from advertising in a paper of wide circulation simply because he does not agree with the editor on all public questions, is not using common sense. It is a form of business suicide. It has sent many short-sighted business men into bankruptcy. A dealer might as well put a sign over his store notifying all who do not think as he does that he does not want their patronage. Readers of newspaper advertisements know when and where their patronage is welcome.

Roxie Stinson Flays Means' Repudiation

ROXIE STINSON SAYS MEANS' REPUDIATION "RIDICULOUS"

Denies Statements Contained in Means' Repudiation in Which He Declared Miss Stinson, Like Himself, Had Given Testimony Inspired by Sen. Wheeler

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Publication of the statement by Gaston R. Means, "star witness" of the sensational Daugherty investigation, repudiating the testimony he gave at that time, added a new turn to the kaleidoscopic accompaniments of the celebrated case, and made one more addition to the charge, counter-charge and repudiation which fill the record.

No sooner had Means' statement been published than reports became current that he had also repudiated it. Some accounts containing circumstantial details of the alleged re-repudiation were published.

When Means was sought by the correspondents of The Associated Press to question him regarding the reports of a re-repudiation, they found him in a hotel room with the door barred with a piece of timber, which, evidently, Means had brought there for the purpose. He admitted the correspondence and was disinclined to answer questions. He did, however, say this much respecting the statements given out by former Attorney-General Daugherty repudiating his testimony before the Brookhart committee:

Means' attention was called to details of stories of his alleged re-repudiation, but he declined to answer any more questions. Soon afterwards Means disappeared from his room and could not be located.

Roxie Stinson's Denial
COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 22 (By the Associated Press).—Miss Roxie Stinson, one of the senate committee's star witnesses in the investigation of the administration of Harry M. Daugherty, former United States attorney general, today characterized as "ridiculous" a purported statement from Gaston R. Means, former department of justice agent, to the former attorney general, in which Means repudiated his testimony before the committee.

Miss Stinson, former wife of Jesse Smith, whose name also figured conspicuously in the senate investigation, denied statements contained in Means' repudiation in which he declared that Miss Stinson, like himself, had given testimony inspired by Senator Burton K. Wheeler, prosecutor of the investigation.

BELIEVE FAMILY WIPED OUT BY MYSTERIOUS AUTO ACCIDENT

Bodies of Five Persons—A Man, a Woman and Three Children—Lay at Morgue in Boston to Await Identification—Car Crashed Through Fence Into Water

BOSTON, Sept. 22.—An entire family as yet unidentified was wiped out, the police believe, when an automobile owned by Michael Dobroval, a chauffeur, crashed into an iron fence on Dorchester Avenue, South Boston, last night and plunged into the Port Point channel. Five bodies, including that of Dobroval, had been recovered today and the police were dragging the waters of the channel for a sixth.

The bodies of a woman and three children, Dobroval's companions, lay at a morgue throughout the forenoon awaiting identification. The chauffeur was unmarried. The police believed he had taken a family of friends for a drive and explained the failure of relatives to claim the bodies by the probability that the entire family met death.

One Body Identified
Only one of the victims of the accident had been identified early today and in his case the identification was not complete. When the wreck of the Lowell's list of tax payers for 1924 is made up of 21,036 accounts representing $4,129,139.44, including all individuals and corporations.

The list made available today at the office of the board of assessors at city hall, again shows Arthur G. Mr. Pollard's tax, representing extensive holdings, totals $23,584.68, while the Stevens Trust tax is approximately $3000 greater, or $32,434.08.

The Tremont & Suffolk mills, as for a number of years, pay the heaviest corporation tax, amounting to $163,593.10, or about $7000 less than in 1923.

Partial Restoration of Wire Communication Increased Toll of Sunday's Storm

At Noon the Casualties in Wisconsin Stood at 33 Dead and Scores Injured

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 22 (By the Associated Press).—Partial restoration of wire communication today gradually increased the known toll of Sunday's storm in Wisconsin, and at noon the casualties stood at 33 dead and scores injured, with immense property damage reported.

This toll was taken in several scattered sections, reports received here showed, while tangled wires continued to isolate some districts, prompting the fear that further deaths might be reported when communication becomes normal.

SKIPPER MAKES DENIAL

Capt. Call Denies His Vessel Responsible for Collision Off Point Judith

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 22.—Vigorous denial that his vessel was responsible for the collision between the steamer Boston and the oil tanker Swift Arrow, off Point Judith the night of July 21 with the loss of four lives, was made today by Captain Alfred W. Call, skipper of the Boston.

In his trial here on a charge of negligence before United States steamboat inspectors Captain B. Clark and Richard P. Bailey.

Captain Jose Gomez of the Swift Arrow was not present this morning as his vessel will not get to Providence from the Pacific coast until tonight. He will go to trial tomorrow morning.

Captain Call declared that the Boston had been struck by the Swift Arrow and that the engines of the Boston were in reverse and his boat was backing when the two vessels came together. The trial of the two captains will probably last several days.

Captain Call stated that the weather from Boston through the Cape Cod Canal to Buzzards Bay had been good, fog not being encountered until after the Boston had passed through the canal. He placed the time of the collision at about 11:41 p. m. daylight saving time. His defense for not slowing up in the fog that he encountered before the one in which the collision occurred was that the fog lifted as quickly as they came or that his vessel passed through them quickly.

LAWRENCE MEN BEFORE U. S. COMMISSIONER

SAN DIEGO NEXT STOP FOR FLIERS

TUCSON, Ariz., Sept. 22 (By the Associated Press).—The United States army round-the-world fliers looked forward to getting back into home territory today. They had before them a flight of approximately 275 miles from here to San Diego, Cal., from which they took flight on their epochal journey.

The gruelling, punishing days of flying over ice fields, baked lands and fog covered stretches of sea over with, the flight has developed into a few days of plain sailing over well-known stretches of country to Seattle, Wash., the official terminus marking completion of the around-the-world trail.

In strange contrast to their reception at other American cities, the fliers found their greatest hindrance by a line of United States soldiers. There was no breaking of lines by the impatient welcome, and the airmen went to the crowd for the first time.

They were dined and given presents last night, the gifts being blankets contributed by various Arizona towns.

There was no indication of the hour Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith, the night commander, would lead his fellow pilots, Lieutenants Erik Nelson and Leigh Wade, into the air today, but it was thought it would be somewhere around 9 o'clock mountain standard time.

Hops Off at Tucson
TUCSON, Ariz., Sept. 22.—With Lieut. Lowell Smith in the lead, the three army world fliers hopped off here at 7:30 o'clock this morning for San Diego. The sky was clear and there was only a slight breeze.

Holiday Declared
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—Mayor James Rolph, Jr., has issued a proclamation making next Wednesday, when the United States round-the-world fliers are due to arrive here, a holiday for all city officials and employees. He called upon citizens to observe the day in a fitting manner.

Welcomed to California
OAKLAND, Calif., Sept. 22.—The world fliers were given their first welcome to California as they passed over this point, a few miles west of Yuma, at 8:55 a. m. Pacific time.

Over El Centro
EL CENTRO, Calif., Sept. 22.—The world fliers passed over here enroute to San Diego at 9:30 a. m. They were flying due west, parallel to the international boundary.

Arrive at San Diego
SAN DIEGO, Calif., Sept. 22.—The around-the-world fliers landed at Rockwell Field, here, at 10:31 a. m.

SHANGHAI TROOPS WITHSTAND KIANGSU ARTILLERY ATTACK

After Battering at the Chekiang Defensive Lines Since Daybreak the Kiangsu Forces Were Unable to Push Shanghai Troops Back in Fights Near Shanghai

SHANGHAI, Sept. 22.—After battering at the Chekiang defensive lines since daybreak, the Kiangsu artillery was unable to push the Shanghai troops back in fighting which was in progress today between Itwangtu and Kiating, 16 miles west of Shanghai.

The firing started by the Kiangsu forces at 6 a. m. proved ineffectual. It was followed by another charge which started at 8 o'clock. There was a lull then until noon. At 2 o'clock there was a resumption of intense firing by the Kiangsus, but without any marked change in positions.

Shanghai headquarters at Lungwha today confirmed a report of the desertion of the cruiser Hachow to the Peking government. The Hachow went over to the enemy with several smaller units. Chekiang headquarters said. The smaller craft are valueless, the announcement said, because they lack munitions and are only able to carry troops.

The deserting craft were known as the Chinese fleet. The boats were reported to have left the mouth of the Yangtze river yesterday for Nanking to join Peking naval forces.

It was pointed out today by persons in authority that by abandoning Hachow, in Chekiang province, where a revolt among his troops were reported, Lu Yung-Hsiang not only shortens his defense line from about 70 to 100 miles, but he has forced foreign powers into the position of allies. Wherever the Chekiang forces are driven back in the neighborhood of foreign settlements, it was pointed out, the enemy would not dare to continue firing, since shells falling on the settlements would mean instant intervention. Guarding of the foreign settlements was relaxed somewhat today.

Reports from Peking and Mukden show that General Wu Pei-Fu and General Chang Tso-Lin, leaders of the rival armies now assembled for a final fight for possession of the Chinese central government are directing major operations personally.

General Chang, it was reported, has requested the American and British consuls to warn their countrymen at Ching Wangtze, a gulf port on the Manchurian-Chinese border, of his intention to bomb the place. Supporting his contemplated action, General Chang asserted that he was engaged in a life and death struggle and could not stop at half measures.

NEW MEN FOR THE POLICE DEPARTMENT

Lowell's police force may soon be augmented by the addition of seven new men. Acting Superintendent of Police Hugh Downey is now awaiting a list of eligibles from the civil service department, and may name the new officers when this arrives.

An examination was held recently. The increase in the number of men in the department is due to recent promotion of four men from supernumeraries to regulars, thus leaving vacancies in the supernumerary ranks. Several extra officers are being pressed into service on Saturday night.

SAVING HUMAN LIVES

To End Coal Mine Explosions Sprinkle Mine With Rock Dust

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Fatal coal dust explosions, like that at Sublet, near Kemmerer, Wyoming, last Tuesday, in which nearly 50 miners were killed, are needless disasters which can be prevented by simple safety measures, chiefly the sprinkling of the underground workings with powdered shale or rock dust, according to a statement today by the American association for labor legislation.

"The lives of more than 400 miners who have met death in eight major coal dust explosions in the United States thus far during the present year would have been spared if the simple, inexpensive and completely effective expedient of sprinkling the mines with rock dust had been in general use," the statement declares. "Tests made during the past ten years by the United States bureau of mines have proved the efficacy of this precaution. 'In England the use of rock dust in bituminous mines is required by law and as a result explosions due to coal dust have been eliminated.'"

While fatalities due to coal dust explosions in the United States have greatly increased during the past two years, the association states, at the same time an increasing number of substantial coal companies have equipped their mines with the protective rock dust.

"Significantly, at the recent meeting of the coal mine inspectors of America in Cincinnati, the use of rock dust to prevent explosions was urged as a prime measure of safety," the statement concludes. "And in the present year, as a result of the Castle Gate explosion in which 172 miners were killed, the state of Utah has, with the co-operation of all coal operators in the state, put into effect a new set of mine safety regulations—the most complete and scientific that has thus far been adopted in the United States—which requires the use of rock dust in the mines."

"The tragedy at Sublet, Wyoming, which follows closely upon an earlier explosion in the same company's mine at Frontier in which 73 miners met death, is the most recent reminder that all bituminous states can eliminate these needless catastrophes by taking action like that which was so promptly put through in Utah."

AUTUMNAL DANCING AT THE COMMODORE

With the coming of the fall season and the cool days at hand the Commodore ballroom has made preparations to combat the cold autumn evenings by placing the side walls in position, thereby making the hall more comfortable for the patrons. During the past week some of the largest gatherings of the year were present to enjoy the programs.

Minor Doyle's team will be on deck to play for dancing on three nights commencing this evening, Friday and Saturday. The admission will be 10 cents and the check system will be used on two evenings. Friday the hall has been engaged for a club social.

Again this week "Jail" Hallett will be here two nights, namely Tuesday and Thursday. This troupe has been the feature attraction at this hall during the present season and every night this orchestra has appeared. The Commodore deal has been said about the Commodore has had capacity houses. A versatility of the team and each night a "barrel of fun" has been provided by different members of the aggregation. While the admission is only 10 cents the amusement derived is worth much more. "Jail" himself will see to it that the boys are kept busy during the evening. Check dancing will be in order on both nights.

Another old timers party will be conducted on Wednesday evening with Joe Hubbard and his band of "ancients" furnishing the music. If you like the old time music and prefer the dances that were popular years ago, then you will find an evening of pleasure at the Commodore on Wednesday night.

INJURED BY AUTO TRUCK

Four-year-old Alphege Gavreau of 300 West Sixth street, was struck and injured by a truck at West Sixth street and Lilly avenue Sunday forenoon at about 10 o'clock. The truck driver, Henry J. Aronsault, reported the accident to police headquarters, and took the lad to St. John's hospital, where it is said his injuries are not serious.

ROBBERS WERE SMOOTH WORKERS

While passersby looked on unexpectingly, robbers entered the store of Shaddock and Normandin in Middlesex street, early last Saturday morning, and made off with 50 men's suits and 40 overcoats. Although the police are endeavoring to trace the responsible parties, they have not succeeded in running down any clues. The break was made about 6.30 o'clock in the morning, the getaway being made in a waiting automobile.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR CONVENTION HERE

The local executive committee arranging for the entertainment of the delegates coming to the annual state convention of Christian Endeavor in this city, on Oct. 16, conducted another business meeting yesterday afternoon at Y.M.C.A. headquarters. Mr. Wells is now convalescing in Canada and expects complete recovery of health. Miss Helen L. Mansfield was appointed acting chairman.

The anniversary banquet will be held in Memorial Auditorium on Thursday evening, Oct. 16—the opening night of the convention. It will be the 40th anniversary of the organization of Lowell C. E. union, also. Dinner tickets will be limited to 700. The state officers will banquet on Friday evening, Oct. 17, and on Saturday night a special supper will be served for all convention members.

Miss Olive Grimsat was elected assistant secretary to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Harriet Perron.

MINOR ACCIDENTS OVER WEEK END

There were several minor accidents over the week end. Late Saturday afternoon, George Simonds, six years old, of 12 Adams street, ran into an auto truck operated by Frank J. Redding of 316 Suffolk street. The injured child was removed to his home by the driver and appeared to be not seriously hurt.

Two boys riding on a bicycle on Broadway collided with a machine operated by Leon D. Sullivan of 3 Pleasant street shortly after 7 o'clock Saturday night. They were John Copley of 560 Broadway and Thomas Burke of 139 Willie street. Neither was badly hurt.

Yesterday's first accident occurred about 11 o'clock when Costas Gaudares of Market street, was struck by a machine driven by Louis A. Conlis of 41 Marion street. The accident took place in Lagrange street, near Suffolk, and the boy was removed to the Corporation hospital suffering from bruises and minor lacerations. He later went to his home.

At Merrimack and Cabot streets late yesterday afternoon, Jennie Coutour of 358 Moody street was struck by a motorcycle operated by William G. Warden of 33 Fay street. She was treated for minor bruises at the Corporation hospital.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Bebe Daniels, Richard Dix and Mary Astor are featured in the principal roles of "Unquarred Women," an Alan Crosland production, adapted from the Saturday Evening Post serial, "Face" by Lucy Stone Terrell. Among the principal players in support are Walter McGrath, Frank Losee, Helen Lingard, Harry Mestayer, Donald Hall, Joe King and many other names just as well known. "Unquarred Women" opened a four days' engagement at the Merrimack Square theatre yesterday.

The story has to do with a young fellow who, through a moment of cowardice on the battlefield, feels that he owes a great debt to the young widow of his buddy who had died "out there" while he had hesitated. The girl without the restraining hand of a husband to guide her, has ruined her reputation in the eyes of society and is rapidly plunging herself into perdition in her blind quest for her false idea of happiness. Bebe Daniels plays the girl, Brian Banning, and Richard Dix is the "boy," Douglas Albright. Miss Astor has the role of the other girl whom Albright really loves, though he sacrifices himself by doing what he believes to be his duty—offering Mrs. Banning the protection of his name. What does Helen do? That's the question "Unquarred Women" is answering for hundreds of fans daily. The second feature of the current bill is "By Divine Right," a stirring drama of modern life, produced by Elliott Dexter.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Harry Downing and company will present "A Bouquet of Originalities" in the B. F. Keith theatre this week, beginning today. It is a delightful melange of singing, dancing and patter, and is equipped with special scenery and costume. The Nelson City Four come back to us with their latest knockout of comedy and music. The Griffin twins are dancing brothers, in their teens, who stage one of the prettiest of turns. The brothers have only recently taken up the professional life, although they have been novelty dancers for years. James Mullen and Anna Francis ought to create a lot of happiness with their fun. Mullen was formerly associated with Allan Coogan. "Pagana" is a personality girl who plays the violin, and Bollinger & Reynolds are aerial acrobats. "Bewitched Friends" is the big picture for the week and underlined in the picture are Lou Tellegen, Anna Q. Nilsson, Norman Kerry and Alice Calhoun.

RIALTO THEATRE

The much heralded melodrama "It Is the Law" will open its three day engagement today at Loew's Rialto, where it will be given its first local presentation. The story was adapted from the stage play of the same name and is a thrilling drama. Local theatregoers have manifested special interest in this play due to the fact that Herbert Hayes, a former local stock leading man, plays the leading juvenile role, that of Justin Victor, who is "framed" and railroaded to prison for a life term for a murder he did not commit.

A most unusual and interesting character will be seen in "It Is the Law." It is a dual role and is enacted by Arthur Hohl, a new face to the screen, but one of the favorite stage stars of Broadway, an actor who, while appearing before the camera in making this big Fox production, was making the same time the greatest bit of his career in the featured role of Witel in "White Cargo," still running in Daly's theatre, as one of New York's stage hits. Hohl was chosen for "It Is the Law" because of the fact that he had created the difficult double role in the original stage production of the same name. And what a treat it is to see him at work in the screen production. A master of makeup and acting technique, he doubles many times in startling fashion from one role to the other, of the two hero portraits, as the scenes progress. One time he is the smooth, well dressed and diabolic villain, Albert Woodruff talking to himself across the table as "Solferino" drug fiend, set and tramp. Within another half hour he switches into the shuffling gait and cowed plaided mannerisms of "Solferino." He fights with "himself," he feeds "himself" and finally kills "himself" in order to step into the character and clothes of the dope fiend to obtain devilish revenge for disappointed love.

Shirley Mason in "Love Letters" is seen in the role of a young girl engaged to a man to be married and who knows that another man has in his possession many love letters which she

NURSE TOLD SANDY TO TAKE TANLAC

"Don't Stop On 1 Bottle But Try 5," She Recommended

"My wife is a nurse and she thinks Tanlac is without an equal; and, as for myself, I never lose an opportunity to recommend it for the good it has done me." This statement was made recently by John T. Sandy, 711 Summer Ave., Springfield, Mass.

"In March, 1923, I suddenly began to suffer from peculiar dizzy spells that would come on like a dash and almost strike me down. For a long time I had been going along without any appetite and could eat no more."

had written to him. A fine state of affairs develops when the holder of the letters uses them as a weapon against her. The usual short subjects are included in the program, the comedy and a Fox News.

TOMMIE MARTELLE HERE

The opening performance of "The Fascinating Widow" was given at the Lowell Opera House this afternoon, starring Tommie Martelle, great female impersonator who has appeared in the title role over 2000 times. The show is highly pleasing, Mr. Martelle wearing a number of the latest modish costumes from the shops of Broadway and Paris. New songs, new dances and new specialties enhance and enliven the show. The Stanley James stock players, headed by Gerald Rowan and Miss Leslie Rice, are supporting the show and their work adds much to its value.

The advance seat sale has been tremendous and Mr. Martelle, regarded as the only serious rival of Julian Eltinge, seems assured of being greeted with capacity audiences at every performance. There will be no matinee on Friday. Seats have been on sale for over a week but a few choice ones for some days are still available and may be reserved by mail or by phoning the box office, 7610.

The season subscription lists are or eggs and lots of other things. I also, suffered from catarrh and was laid up for two months, absolutely all in.

"I told my wife to bring me a bottle of Tanlac. She said, 'Don't stop at one; take five,' and that is what I have done with the result that my appetite is perfect, the dizziness is no more, and my strength is so good that I am working every day. My wife and I are both strong for Tanlac."

DAVIS SEES VICTORY

Returns From West and Expresses Confidence in Democratic Success

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—John W. Davis is back from his drive for the presidency in eight western states radiating confidence of democratic success in November.

In a formal statement after his arrival here last night, he asserted that everywhere he had found a general dissatisfaction with the record of the present administration both in its dealing with domestic and foreign problems; that the farmer was dissatisfied with the tariff policy and that the laboring man feels keenly the rising cost of living.

Mr. Davis declared that "the exposure of corruption in Washington" had made a far deeper impression on the public mind and the moral sense of the country than the leaders of the republican party were willing to admit. Mr. Davis said the American people realized fully that their choice was only between continuing the present discredited republican regime or installing the democratic administration in its stead.

SOUSA AND HIS BAND AT AUDITORIUM TONIGHT

If Lowell gives Sousa a reception anything like Boston gave him last night, Sousa's appearance in Lowell tonight, for a concert at the Lowell Memorial Auditorium, will be a record-breaker for this city. Sousa and his band are prepared with one of the finest programs of the famous leader's career, a program which includes the famous "Ancient and Honorable Artillery" march, 20 minutes of jazz, and such soloists as Miss Marjorie Moody, soprano, John Dolan, cornet; Robert Gooding, saxophone, and George Carey, xylophone. There is every likelihood that the famous leader may play as an encore, the famous march written by William Cardinal O'Connell, "Vigor in Ardus," which he is carrying this year on his encore program.

Lowell members of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery, who are fully numerous and include the city engineer, Stephen J. Kearney, will be well represented at the concert. A full house is expected, as the advance sale of tickets has been entirely satisfactory.

VILLAGE NEAR MONTREAL WIPED OUT BY FIRE

MONTREAL, Sept. 22—The village of St. Constance, about 22 miles from here, was wiped out by a fire which started early today, according to meagre reports received here. About 50 buildings had been burned. The telephone exchange building also was destroyed, cutting off communication with outside points.

Only the railroad station had been left standing, the report said. The village is on the King Edward highway, between Montreal and Rouse's Point.

Rev. Charles D. Piper, preaching last evening in First Street Baptist church before an audience containing many members of Lowell commandery, Knights of Malta, declared that Jesus was a pacifist; that the Bible is a pacifist book, and that no biblical texts in the New Testament support war. In the Old Testament, the pastor said, war is tolerated as an instrument of God's vengeance.

In his vigorous defense of pacifism and all that it means to the world at large, Rev. Mr. Piper referred to many passages in the Holy Word, dwelling at length upon one in particular—the passage in the gospel of St. Luke, which tells of the "strong man" protecting the weak. The pastor said that the pacifist tendencies of the true Christian religion were first announced to the world when the angels sang "Peace on earth, good will toward men."

A certain amount of preparedness for necessary defensive warfare is needed, the pastor continued, but such a mobilization day as the one recently held is nothing short of "shaking our fist in the faces of neighboring nations," he declared. He believed that preparing for war "will prepare war for you."

The attendance of the Knights of Malta at Fifth Street Baptist church, last evening, formed a part of the day's annual memorial services for the commandery's honored dead. In the afternoon, the regulation lodge memorial services were held in I.O.O.F. hall in Middlesex street, with Past Commander Edwin S. Yeomans presiding. Rev. William F. Harrison of North Chelmsford Congregational church, was the speaker at this service. Among the guests present were Grand Commander Joseph Winn of Cambridge and Grand Recorder F. C. Wilson of Boston.

What You Should Know about a baby's care

Illness is usually due to constipation. Quickly give half a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

THE young mother should watch which foods the baby relishes most, which foods and their quantity cause distress, and act accordingly.

The good health of a baby is largely a matter of intelligent attention to diet. Nevertheless, in spite of your efforts you will sometimes notice belching, flatulence, wind and symptoms of colicky pain.

Give half a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and thereafter vary the offending food. Syrup Pepsin is a laxative admirably suited to infants and children, as it is mild and wholly free from opiates and narcotics.

If you delay in giving it you will soon find the baby suffering from constipation, and that may lead to more serious illness. Half a teaspoonful promptly given will avoid trouble.

Many thousands of mothers have never given their babies any other medicine but Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and they have successfully raised large and sturdy families. The formula is not a secret, being a combination of Egyptian senna with pepsin, and agreeable aromatics. The ingredients are stated on the package. Mrs. Dewey Walker, Elida, N. M., and Mrs. B. Higginbotham, Otter Creek, Fla., are among the many who are firm believers that Syrup Pepsin has kept their families and themselves in good health.

No family with young children can afford to be without.
